

Introduction

Course overview

Who is this course for?

- → Health care workers working in facilities providing outpatient or inpatient care
  - Health centres
  - Hospitals
  - Clinics
  - Private practices
  - Cholera Treatment Centres (CTCs)
  - Cholera Treatment Units (CTUs)
  - Oral Rehydration Points (ORPs)
  - Etc

What will you learn?

- Objectives of cholera surveillance
- Key role of health care workers in cholera surveillance
- Signs and symptoms to identify patients with suspected cholera
- Standard information to be collected on patients with suspected cholera
- Timelines to report patients with suspected cholera in different situations
- Which patients to test for cholera in different situations
- Where to access supplementary resources about cholera surveillance

What are the modules?

15'

Module 1

Role of health care workers in cholera surveillance

10'

Module 4

Surveillance to monitor cholera outbreaks 10'

Module 2

General principles for cholera surveillance

10'

Module 5

Surveillance to track cholera clusters 10'

Module 3

Surveillance for the early detection of cholera outbreaks

Module 6

Resources

How to nagivate this course?

Modules 1 & 2

Generic

■ Independent of the cholera situation

Modules 3 to 5

Context-specific

Depend on the cholera situation

Take Modules 1 & 2 first

How to use this course?

Course based on the recommendations on cholera surveillance of the Global Task Force on Cholera Control

- Does not substitute for the national or local protocols
- Always follow the directions of your Health Authority

Get additional support

For any question on cholera surveillance or for technical assistance, contact the GTFCC Secretariat

GTFCCsecretariat@who.int

